CAPITAL FINANCING

ASSET BASED LENDING

Improve Your Cash Flow With Asset Based Financing

Commonly referred to as asset-based loans (ABL), asset-based finance is a form of business lending that relies on the collateral of your business, rather than just cashflow and credit. Conventional loans look at cashflow first, collateral second, while asset-based loan programs look at collateral first and cashflow second. Relying on the collateral to provide financing allows for businesses that are growing rapidly to maintain the liquidity needed to keep up with capital requirements.
